

Revolut and Google Cloud Deepen Strategic Partnership to Power Global Growth to 100M+ Customers

Global fintech powerhouse Revolut expands work with Google Cloud to support mission to scale to 100M+ customers, enhance product innovation, and drive deeper customer engagement

LONDON and MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif., Sept. 4, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Revolut, the global fintech leader with more than 60 million customers worldwide, today announced a significant expansion of its strategic partnership with Google Cloud. This multi-year and multi-million dollar partnership will involve Revolut leveraging Google Cloud's secure, scalable infrastructure to power its rapidly growing global systems, ensuring seamless performance even as its user base continues to expand exponentially.

The deepened collaboration between the two companies builds on an already robust foundation. Revolut has attained the #1 position on mobile app stores in multiple markets and has established itself as one of the largest global Google Pay and Wallet partners. The expanded partnership is a key pillar of Revolut's strategy to reach more than 100 million customers globally.

By leveraging Google's world-class technology, Revolut aims to enhance every aspect of its business, from back-end operations to the customer-facing app experience. Revolut will also harness Google's AI and machine learning tools, including Gemini models, to improve fraud detection, and create more relevant product offerings for its customers worldwide.

"Google's world-leading AI and cloud infrastructure are an incredible asset," said David Tirado, Vice President of Global Business and Profitability at Revolut. "This partnership will empower us to rapidly scale our offerings, deliver even more personalised and valuable experiences to our customers, and continue to outpace the traditional financial sector. We're building the future of finance, and Google is a key partner on that journey."

Revolut is renowned for its ambitious innovation roadmap. In the last year alone, it has announced a range of new products and features, from the introduction of its own ATMs in Europe, to innovative savings and investment tools, to plans to transform the telecoms industry by offering more competitive, comprehensive mobile plans in the UK and Germany. This strategic partnership with Google provides the scalable infrastructure underpinning these new services, providing Revolut customers with the next generation of financial products.

Tara Brady, President, Google Cloud EMEA, commented, "Revolut is consistently pushing the boundaries of the financial sector. Google is proud to provide the secure, scalable, and intelligent infrastructure, powered by our leading AI, to fuel its ambitious global expansion and help it deliver the next generation of financial services to a new audience."

Revolut, established in 2015, has rapidly become a UK and European fintech success story, growing from 1.5 million customers in 2018 to more than 60 million today. This deepened partnership marks a new chapter in Revolut's growth story, with Google playing a pivotal role in helping the fintech giant build a truly global financial ecosystem.
